

CALL FOR PAPERS

For

Exhibition and Conference 2010

13-14th October 2010 at Resource Ireland, RDS, Simonscourt, Dublin<sup>1</sup>

Innovative & Sustainability Technology for Smarter Living

* KEYNOTE SPEAKER ***

Pavegen Systems create flexible paving slabs that generate energy from people's footsteps to power pedestrian lighting. Laurence is an industrial design engineer and innovator with primary focus on sustainable products for the built environment.

Two workshops are being hosted by the Cleantech Network in conjunction with the Environmental Sciences Association of Ireland (ESAI) on sustainability and water, with CIWM and Cré organising the waste workshops.

Cleantech network seeks to assist companies by providing a marketing brand at home and abroad. As well as increasing environmental awareness and driving green procurement as a tool for increasing growth, prosperity and hope for the future. We will be providing a platform for our members to showcase their innovative products as well as highlighting the urgency in acting now to consume less but do more.
